MONDAY, MAY 30, 1768.

CHARLES-TOWN, Printed at PETER TIMOTHY's (the OLDEST) Office, in BROAD-STREET.

Warsaw, February 18.

WE are very impatient here to know the new declarations which the miniſters of ſome foreign courts are ſaid to be charged to make in a few days. It is pretended that Prince Repnin, in particular, hath declared that he will not render public his laſt orders, for very important reaſons. It is alſo aſſured, that the Pruſſian Miniſter hath received ſome diſpatches which he is not to open 'till a few days hence in full ſeſſion. The other Miniſters have orders not to ſign any thing but the affair of the Diſſidents, and not to interfere in any manner in the affairs of the State and the Finances.

Parma, Feb. 20. A certain writing in form of a bull from Rome has come to our knowledge here; but as the expreſſions and maxims therein contained, could not proceed from a pontiff ſo holy, ſo enlightened, and ſo ſagacious as is the preſent reigning Pope, the Infant Duke hath ordered all his ſubjects to believe that in effect this piece does not come from his holineſs; enjoining them at the ſame time not to fail in reſpect towards him; and forbidding them to moleſt on that account any of the ſubjects of the court of Rome.

Madrid, Feb. 22. On Tueſday laſt a courier arrived here from Naples, with advice that the Pope has excommunicated the Regency of Parma.

Rome, Feb. 24. Our advices from Corſica mention nothing but preparations for war, which are making by both parties, but eſpecially by the Genoeſe, who are augmenting Bonifaccio, among other fortifications; from whence we infer that all accommodation is broken off between the Republic and the Iſlanders.

Warſaw, Feb. 27. Prince Repnin has conſented that theſe words ſhall be inſerted in the treaty which is going to be ſigned, "Without prejudice to the treaty of Oliva, or that of Carlowitz, &c." The Ruſſian troops are ſoon to leave Poland, ſome regiments being already in motion.

The Commiſſioners have fixed the public contributions at 23 millions of Poliſh florins per annum; and have ordered a coinage of 100 millions of ſilver, and 12 millions of copper.

When the ſtates met on the 20th, they adjourned to the 26th. Yeſterday prince Radzivil declared that the commiſſion had concluded all the buſineſs which had been brought before them; and the Primate deſired that the Diet, which was to break up on the 1ſt of March, might be allowed to ſit eight days more.

Dreſden, Feb. 28. The court of Saxony hath juſt renounced its pretenſions to the poſſeſſions of the late Count de Bruhl, and hath cauſed the ſequeſtration to be taken off; ſo that the children of that miniſter will be immediately re-eſtabliſhed in the poſſeſſion of their patrimony.

Florence, March 1. Some letters inform us, that at the requeſt of the King of the Two Sicilies, the Jeſuits eſtabliſhed in the iſland of Malta, have been all arreſted in one and the ſame night, by order of the Grand Maſter, and conducted on board ſome ſhips, to be tranſported to the Eccleſiaſtical State.

Leghorn, March 4. By letters from the Iſle of Rouge there is advice, that a national aſſembly will be held in the Eaſter week at Corte; and that in July the troops of France will be relieved by thoſe of another power.

By letters from the ſame iſland there is advice, that General Paoli, after examining the dock-yards, was gone to San Pellegrino, where a fort is now building, which will not be inferior to that of Salagna.

Warſaw, March 5. This day the Dyet held a formal ſeſſion, which is the laſt, wherein every thing that the commiſſioners have agreed on, in their different deliberations, whether among themſelves, or jointly with the Ruſſian ambaſſador, hath been approved and confirmed, in conſequence of the ample powers wherewith they were inveſted.

Geneva, March 11. The great and leſſer councils preſented this day to the general council a plan of reconciliation, which was accepted by 1204 voices againſt 23. This event has given great pleaſure, as it opens a proſpect of tranquillity ſo long wiſhed for in this city.

Berne, March 12. The poſt from Geneva is this inſtant arrived, by which we are informed, that peace is happily reſtored to that Republic; the plan of arrangement and conciliation having been approved yeſterday in the council general by a majority of 1201 againſt 23.

Aligni, March 15. It is ſaid that the Dutch Infantry, or at leaſt the Dutch Swiſs, are to be cloathed after the Pruſſian manner; and it is likewiſe ſaid that a camp will be formed in the ſpring, conſiſting of 15,000 men.

LONDON, March 24.

LETTERS from Leghorn mention, that a freſh miſunderſtanding had happened between the Genoeſe and Corſicans, on account of the former refuſing to deliver up certain priſoners claimed by the latter.

This morning a number of colony agents attended at the Earl of Hillſborough's office at Whitehall.

This morning a great many gentlemen of fortune, the friends of Mr. Wilkes, ſet out for different parts of the county of Middleſex, to canvaſs for that gentleman.

Very conſiderable bets are now depending on the ſucceſs of Mr. Wilkes's canvaſs for Middleſex.

March 25. We hear that the departure of lord Cathcart for the court of Ruſſia, is poſtponed till after the election of the ſixteen peers for Scotland is over.

On Monday laſt John Dick, Eſq; his Britannick Majeſty's conſul at Leghorn, was ſerved heir to Sir William Dick, of Braid, Bart. his great grandfather's father. It appeared that all the male deſcendants of Sir William Dick had failed except his youngeſt ſon Capt. Lewis, who ſettled in Northumberland, and who was the grandfather of John Dick, Eſq; his only male deſcendant now in life. Upon which a reſpectable jury unanimouſly found his propinquity proved, and declared him to be now Sir John Dick, Bart.

The 13th inſt. his Majeſty's ſhip the Belliſle arrived at Cove, to take on board the ſecond or Queen's regiment for Gibraltar; and we hear that they embarked yeſterday.

A liveryman of London aſking a friend of Mr. Wilkes, whether he thought it would not have been more prudent for Mr. Wilkes to have thrown up the poll ſooner, as by carrying it on to the end, he ſhewed how ſmall a part of the livery he had on his hand? He turned it off with a ſmile, and ſaid, "Mr. Wilkes only wanted to have it in his power to ſay, that there were above 1000 honeſt men in London."

There is now in rehearſal at the Theatre Royal in Drury Lane, a new comedy of two acts, called national prejudice, and will be performed on Wedneſday the 6th of April, after the play of the way to keep him, for the benefit of Mrs. Abington.

March 26. We hear that all his Majeſty's forts and caſtles in Great-Britain and Ireland will, in the courſe of the enſuing ſummer, be ſurveyed, in order to the forming an eſtimate of the charge for repairing the ſame.

Yeſterday John Wilkes, Eſq; accompanied by ſeveral gentlemen, ſet out to canvaſs for the county of Middleſex.

Yeſterday a gentleman at Lloyd's coffee-houſe laid a bet of 100 guineas to 20, that Mr. Wilkes would carry his election for Middleſex.

It is ſaid that Mr. Wilkes would have declined ſtanding the poll for this city laſt Saturday, but that he was adviſed to perſevere to the end, in order to ſee how many friends he had got that had courage to avow their attachment to him.

We are informed that a land-tax will ſhortly be introduced into a neighbouring kingdom.

The following is ſaid to be the Letter ſent by J. WILKES, Eſq; to a great Perſonage.

SIRE,

I BEG thus to throw myſelf at your M——'s feet, and ſupplicate that mercy and clemency which ſhine with ſuch luſtre among your Princely virtues.

Some former Miniſters, whom your M——, in condeſcenſion to the wiſhes of your people, thought proper to remove, employ every wicked and deceitful art to oppreſs your ſubject, and to revenge their own perſonal cauſe on me, whom they imagined to be the principal author of bringing to the public view, their ignorance, inſufficiency, and treachery to your M—— and the Nation.

I have been the innocent and unhappy victim of their revenge. I was forced by their injuſtice and violence into an exile, which I have never ceaſed for ſeveral years to conſider as the moſt cruel oppreſſion; becauſe I no longer could be under the benign protection of your M—— in the land of liberty.

With a heart full of zeal for the ſervice of your M—— and my country, I implore, Sire, your clemency. My only hopes of pardon are founded in the great goodneſs and benevolence of your M——; and every day of freedom you may be graciouſly pleaſed to permit me the enjoyment of, in my dear native land, ſhall give proofs of my zeal and attachment to your ſervice. I am, Sire, your M——'s moſt obedient and dutiful Subj ct. JOHN WILKES.

March 4, 1768.

The above which was delivered by Mr. Wilkes's ſervant at the Q—'s P——e, on the fourth of March, is the only application he has made for his pardon ſince his laſt return to England.

We hear that a commiſſion is preparing to paſs the great ſeal for appointing Guy Carleton, Eſq; Governor of Quebec.

Yeſterday was held, by adjournment, a common hall, when the numbers were declared by the ſheriffs; and that the right hon. the lord Mayor, Sir Robert Ladbroke, Knt. William Beckford, and Barlow Trecothick, Eſqrs. were duly elected to repreſent this city in parliament. After which the gentlemen elected ſeverally made an addreſs of thanks to the livery, from the Huſtings, as did alſo John Paterſon, Eſq; and they all concluded with thanks to the ſheriffs for their upright conduct, and for their ſpirited endeavours to preſerve the peace during the courſe of the election. Sir Richard Glyn and Mr. Wilkes, the other two candidates, were not there.

The talk is, that Mr. Wilkes is ſure of a very extenſive intereſt in the Eaſtern diviſion of Middleſex, and which alone contains, it is ſaid, conſiderably more than one third of the electors. The whole number of freeholders in the county are eſtimated at between two or three thouſand. It is certain that Mr. Wilkes's intentions for Middleſex have given a very great alarm to his opponents, as well as to the M——ry, who have already begun making intereſt againſt him.

It is ſaid that Mr. Wilkes is in poſſeſſion of an annuity for life, granted him by a diſintereſted friend, which is a ſufficient qualification for a ſeat for a county.

It is thought there will be more complaints to parliament, on account of improper returns at the preſent election, than have been known ſince the Revolution.

Friday two butts of beer were given to the populace at Brentford, by the two old members, which they ſoon emptied, drinking all the while to Wilkes and Liberty.

Laſt Saturday Lord Baltimore was tried at the aſſize holden for Surry, before the hon. Mr. Baron Smythe, for a rape upon Sarah Woodcock, and acquitted; and at the ſame time Mrs. Griffinburg, and Mrs. Harvey, were tried as acceſſaries to that felony, and alſo acquitted. The trial begun about ſeven in the morning, and continued 'till near three the next morning.

March 28. A gentleman was obſerving, on Thurſday, at a coffee-houſe in Pall mall, that he thought the ſeveral candidates at the preſent general election, did not uſe the fair partners of their hearts with that generoſity they ought to do; the men arrogating to themſelves the great ſucceſs they had upon their canvaſs; when, at the ſame time, it is a notorious fact, that in many of the cities and boroughs throughout England, it has, at this election, been the faſhion for the candidates ladies, much more than the candidates themſelves, to canvaſs amongſt the electors; and to their credit, infinitely rather than their huſbands, is to be placed the great ſucceſs attending the ſeveral canvaſſes throughout the kingdom.

The following is given as a fact. On the publication of the ſubſcription for the payment of Mr. Wilkes's debts, his apothecary generouſly ſent in his bill, of upwards of 40l. and a receipt at the bottom of it, in full of all demands, accompaniſd with five guineas in cash, in ſupport of the ſubſcription.

Letters from Amſterdam, of the 19th inſt. inform, that there will fail this year for the whale fiſhery in the Greenland ſeas 123 Dutch ſhips, 24 veſſels from Hamburgh, two from Altona, one from the coaſt of the Baltic ſea, and five from Bremen; in all 155 ſhips.

Several great bets are depending at the Weſt end of the town, that 100 new members will be elected, who never ſat in the houſe before.

It is ſaid to have coſt a candidate, for a manufacturing town in Eſſex, 13,000l.

From Dublin we hear, that there is no oppoſition expected for that capital at the enſuing general election in Ireland, conſequently their preſent members, the marquis of Kildare and Dr. Lucas, will be unanimouſly rechoſen repreſentatives for the ſame.

We hear from Ireland, that the hon. Thomas Barnewall, now the eldeſt ſon of lord Trimleſtown, in that kingdom, has lately conformed to the proteſtant religion.

Admiral Palliſer will ſail for his ſtation at Newfoundland by the 15th of April, and preſents have been ſhipped on board the Guernſey man of war to be diſtributed to the chiefs of the Mickmack Indians.

A few days ago, Peter Wilſon, for celebrating clandeſtine marriages, was, upon his own petition, baniſhed Scotland for life.

March 29. We learn from Berlin, that his Pruſſian Majeſty is going to eſtabliſh in that city an office under proper directors, for aſſiſting merchants and traders, who ſhall be ſtraitened, through unavoidable loſſes, to keep their credit. The money is to be advanced to them without any intereſt.

Some letters from Leghorn ſay, it was currently reported there, that a body of Engliſh troops were expected to arrive about the month of June next in Corſica.

Letters from Marſeilles and Toulon mention, that orders had juſt been received there for the immediate equipment of ſeveral ſhips of war and tranſports, but the place of their deſtination is not yet known.

This morning an extraordinary meſſenger was diſpatched to his Excellency the Earl of Rochford, ambaſſador at the court of France.

Yeſterday morning Sir W. B. Proctor, Mr. Cooke, and Mr. Wilkes, the candidates for the county of Middleſex, ſet out for Brentford, when the election came on for Knights of the Shire for that county: The latter was in a coach drawn by ſix long tail horſes, and was attended by an amazing number of people to the place of election, which was held in the middle of Brentford Butts, a temporary booth being erected there for that purpoſe, in which were fifteen poll books, one for each diviſion. It is thought there has not been ſo great a deſection of inhabitants from London and Weſtminſter to ten miles diſtance, in any one day, ſince the life-guardman's prophecy of the earthquake, which was to deſtroy both thoſe cities in the year 1750.

The candidates were put up at half an hour paſt eleven o'clock, when the ſhew of hands was almoſt general for Mr. Wilkes, and for Sir William Beauchamp Proctor there was a very great ſhew, but for Mr. Cooke very few; whereupon the two former were declared to have the majority; but a poll being demanded by the friends of Mr. Cooke, the ſame began at one o'clock, and it was agreed that the books ſhould be cloſed at eight.

Laſt night at the cloſe of the poll, the numbers were,

For Mr. Wilkes,	1213
Sir William Beauchamp Proctor,	740
Mr. Cooke,	645

This morning the poll was agreed to be opened again, and finally to cloſe at two.

The infatuation of Mr. Wilkes's friends was ſo great, that every perſon was obliged to declare for him, and have blue cockades, before they were admitted to poll.

The mob behaved in a very outrageous manner at Hyde-park corner, where they pelted Mr. Cooke, ſon of the City Marſhal, and knocked him from his horſe, took off the wheels of one of the carriages, cut the harneſs, and broke the glaſſes to pieces; ſeveral other carriages, with the friends of Meſſ. Proctor and Cooke, were greatly damaged. The reaſon aſſigned for theſe proceedings is, that a flag was carried before the proceſſion of Mr. Wilkes's antagoniſts, on which was painted "No Blaſphemer."

A prodigious concourſe of people aſſembled at Brentford, who would ſuffer no coaches to enter the town, without "No. 45," and the words "Wilkes and liberty" on them.

Several flags were flying with the motto, "More meat and fewer Cooks."

In the evening, the roads from Brentford on each ſide, to Ratcliff-croſs, Mile-end, and thro' all the public ſtreets, were lined with immenſe crowds of people, who obliged every perſon in carriages to huzza for Mr. Wilkes.

About nine o'clock laſt night, upon the return of the pollers from Brentford, the mobility grew extremely riotous and tumultuous in the Strand, Fleet-ſtreet, &c. &c. where the inhabitants, in obedience to their commands, very expeditiouſly and brilliantly illuminated their houſes; when they arrived at the Manſion-houſe they broke ſome of the windows and lamps there, and behaved very diſorderly.

At Brentford a number of men in Mr. Wilkes's intereſt, attacked a party in that of Mr. Cooke, and a battle began, when Mr. Wilkes intreated his adherents to be peaceable, and ſuffer the election to go on quietly and fairly; upon which the fray ended. The people were in general leſs tumultuous than at moſt of the preceding conteſted elections there.

At the cloſe of the poll this day for the county of Middleſex the numbers were,

For Mr. Wilkes,	1295
Mr. Cooke,	807
Sir William Beauchamp Proctor,	807

We hear that Sir William Trelawney, Bart. will ſet out this week for Portſmouth, to embark on board the Jaſon man of war for Jamaica, of which place he is appointed Governor.

The Houſe of Commons of Ireland is adjourned to Tueſday the 19th of April next.

The late remarkable trial of —— and two women, came on exactly at half paſt ſeven in the morning, and laſted 'till three the next morning. Twelve out of twenty-four jurymen were objected to by the priſoner's counſel. In the courſe of the trial, the proſecutrix gave evidence that ſhe was not prevailed upon for the firſt two nights of her confinement to undreſs or go into bed; and that on her arrival at the country houſe, ſhe was peremptorily told by the two women, that ſhe muſt at all events that night go to bed to ——, that ſhe was forcibly undreſſed by them, and put to bed to him accordingly. That afterwards in the ſtate of deſpair in which ſhe found herſelf, ſhe conſented to whatever was desired of her, except what was criminal. Upon the return of the jury, ——— was ordered to hold up his hand, and the foreman answered to the usual question, not guilty. Upon the same question being put concerning the first woman the foreman answered, guilty; but their verdict, of not guilty, including all the three prisoners, they were all accordingly acquitted.

Another prosecution is carrying on in the same court for the seduction only, which will be tried in the court of King's-Bench.

Miss ——— was under examination four hours and a half, and afterwards cross-examined two hours; during all which time her testimony was the most consistent, steady, and sensible, that ever was known, which drew tears from many of the audience.

YESTERDAY se'nnight arrived here His Majesty's Cutter Chaleurs, commanded by Captain Thomas Laugharne, from St. Augustine.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By the honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in chief in and over his majesty's said Province;

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS his Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over this Province, did Yesterday depart from hence to the Northern Colonies, in his Majesty's Ship the Fowey, for the recovery of his Health, whereby the Government of this Province hath devolved upon me; I THEREFORE HAVE THOUGHT FIT, by the Advice of his Majesty's Council, to issue this my Proclamation, to notify the same: and it is my Will and Pleasure, that all Officers, as well Civil as Military, do continue in their respective offices till further Orders.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the said province, at Charles Town, this Twenty fourth Day of May, in the Eighth Year of his Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-eight.

WILLIAM BULL.

By his Honour's Command,

GOD SAVE THE KING.

On Wednesday were landed here from on board the schooner Polly, Captain Bryson, from Pensacola, (which passed by this bar that day, bound for New-York) Captain Jenkin of His Majesty's 9th regiment, Lieutenant Pittman of the 15th, and Captain Phillips of the 60th, having attended a court-martial at Pensacola, which began the 16th of March, and ended the 20th of April. Lieutenant Governor Brown was not returned from visiting the interior parts of that province when these gentlemen came away, nor was Governor Elliott arrived. The Spaniards and French still remained together at New-Orleans, but in a very ill humour with each other. His Majesty's ship the Adventure, Captain Fitzherbert, was at Pensacola, and the Ecchо daily expected. And no Spaniards have been there to trade since those formerly mentioned.

The same day arrived here, in Captain Doran's vessel, from St. Augustine, Mr. Sinnot, one of the superintendant of Indian affairs for the southern district his deputies or commissaries.

From North-Carolina, we have a melancholly account of the death of Alexander Duncan, Esq; an eminent merchant there, on the 4th instant, much lamented by all who knew him, as he was punctual and just in all his transactions, and of a most friendly and benevolent disposition to all, especially to strangers.

Thursday embarked and sailed for London, in the ship Nancy, Captain Jordan, Miles Brewton, Arthur Middleton, and John Ainslie, Esqrs. the right honourable Lady Mary Ainslie, Mrs. Brewton, Mrs. Middleton, &c.

The same day Mr Baker, one of our Pilots, spoke with a Sloop 14 days out from Boston bound for Georgia, passing by this bar, all well on board.

Friday Mr Thomas Legaré, Factor, embarked and sail'd for Boston, in the Brigt. Fanny, for the recovery of his health.

Edward Wells, convicted at last April sessions, of robbing Dennis Hayes in his own house, and sentenced to be hanged on the 13th instant, was reprieved for 14 days: And Thomas Caton, jun. at the same time convicted of forging an order for the delivery of goods, having been recommended to mercy by the jury, has been pardoned.

ALL INTELLIGENCE, &c. concerning Indians or their affairs, in the Southern district of North-America, having been for some years past, confined to the channel of John Stuart, Esq; His Majesty's Superintendant for that district, and his deputies or commissaries, Messrs. Mc'Intosh, Cameron, &c. and the favourite Paper for communicating to the public, all such information relative thereto as is thought fit for publication, being Mr. ROBERT WELLS's South Carolina and American General Gazette: That our readers may no longer remain uninformed of what is so communicated, we shall in future lay the articles before them in the following manner, viz.

Charles-Town, May 13. "Letters from the Cherokee country, inform us of the death of KITTAGUSTA, the great Sachem or Prince of Choté and of the whole nation, brother of Ouconnostota or the Great Warriour, much and sincerely lamented by all his countrymen. The Upper Cherokee Towns are greatly harrassed by several parties of Indians, from the Ohio and Mississippi, who kill every body they meet with, whether White men or Indians: On the 17th of last month, two white men, looking for their horses, were killed and scalped, and another very much wounded. Some Renegado Creeks, disowned by their own nation, have lately been giving out inflammatory speeches among the Cherokees. The same letters add, that the people of the Lower Towns express the highest satisfaction with the King's order, for running the boundary lines between their hunting-grounds and Virginia, which had been communicated to them by Mr. Stuart, Superintendant of the Southern district."

"His Excellency Governor Wright has appointed George Galphin, Edward Barnard, and George Mackintosh, Esqrs. Commissioners for running the boundary line between that province and the Creek Indians. Mr. Commissary Mackintosh for his honour the Superintendant, and the Indian deputies are on their way from the Creek nation to Mr. Galphin's, in order to begin that long expected and important business. [WELLS's GAZETTE.]

Two Waxaws, about twelve miles from the Catawba Settlements, we have the following account.

"On Sunday May 1st, the Catawba Indians had notice that a party of the Shawanese who have been long their enemies, had been seen near their town, on which they immediately raised a party to go out against the enemy, with whom they came up next morning, and found them to be seven in number, and all asleep; the Catawbas immediately fired and killed three on the spot, and took three prisoners; one escaped wounded, but has been since found dead in the woods. Among the prisoners is the Indian who killed King Haggler; they were all delivered to the families who have had their relations killed by the Shawanese, who put them to death in the inhuman, barbarous manner, common to the Indian nations. One of the prisoners was very young and pleaded very hard for his life, begging them to consider his tender age, assuring them he was brought by his brother against his own inclinations, and that he had never killed or hurt any body, but nothing could prevail."
